The

The Medicines which I here-under present you with, though not in common Practice, deserve for their excellencie to be of more publique use. They are such as (after many years operation in Chymistry, with the advantage of applications made to me, and Converse with Stranglers and Travellers, as well as the Instructions I have receiyed from the most Learned, Ingenious, and Curious searchers into this Art, of our own Country) I have known to be of singular use and benifit, and often proved most effectual in the Cure of such Distempers as to each particular Medicine I have briefly Attributed. These (after my several years experiance, in which I think may Justly, and without Boast, I have performed as many, and various operations as any pretending to the Arte) I here offer you, as the choicest of my Collection; and also assure you my faithfulness in the preparation; and as these shall find a favourable acceptance, my farther indeavour for a publique good.

Mercurius Catharticus.

The Title of this Medicine tells you how it operates: viz. only by Stoole.

The Effects of it's operation are the cure of the Pox, with all unseperable Companions, if Cronick: viz. Nocturnal pains in the Head, want of Rest; together with Dolours in other parts, and often a Leaprous-like Condition, defiling almost

the

the whole Body; of all which, after all other commonly known means, as Purging, Bleeding, Sweating, and Salivation, to none, or little purpose tryed, this one Medicine hath perfected the Cure. It is also advantagiously applyed in the Cure of the Gout, Leaprofie, and Cachexie, and as well for prevention as Cure. Its Dose from Four to Eight Grains, in the Pap of a Roasted Apple, Conserve of Roses, or any such Vehicle; due order being observed in the time of its operation.

Price, 10s. Per Ounce.

Mercurius Diaphoreticus.

THIS Medicine is Mercurial; and a Noble and safe one it is; hardly its like to be found, for the Cure of such Diseases as require there Cure per Diaphresm: It is therefore very fit for use, in the Cure of the Pox, and all other Distempers, where Sweating is needful: It is, though Mercurial, altogether free from giving Salivation, though long used, and in a multiplied Dose. Its Dose from Ten to Twenty, or Thirty Graias, in any fit Vechile, as Methriodate, Treacle, Diascordium, or the Pap of an Aple, or the like; Cure must be in the time of its operation.

Price, 10s. Per Ounce.

Antimonium Catharticum.

THIS is a Noble Antimonial Cathartick Medicine, and the preparation not common; its effects admirable, if duly applyed, performing what may in Reason be expected from a Medicine of this Nature, both in General and Particular Obstructions. Also in the Pox, Leaprofie, Gout, Dropie, Scurvy, and Cachexie, when other common Medicines do many times fail both Patients and Physitians expectations. Its Dose from Three to Five Grains.

Price, 5s. Per Ounce.

Tinctura Mundificans.

THIS is a very safe and pleasant Medicine, it cleanseth the whole Mass of Blood; it is Antimonial, but such an one as few will be found comparable to it in discovering its Basis, I have to any Ingenious searcher into Natures secrets in Medicine, said sufficient to give it Credit: It is with its Mundifying quality indued with other good Properties: It's somewhat Laxative, Disuretick, and Diaphoretick; and therefore that way also Conducing to the Cure of such Diseases, as may thereby be diverted, and removed, &c. Its Dose is from Ten, to Twenty or Thirty drops in Wine, Beer, Ale, Milled-Water, or any Convenient Vcheicle.

Price, 4s. Per Ounce.

Sal. Antipilepticum.

THIS Medicine is Compound: viz. Of an Animal Salt, and a Semiminerall; it is a very Active and Efficacious Medicine in the Cure of all Histerick, and Convulsive Distempers, Epilepticke Fits, and all other Diseases of the brain, it will upon due and orderly use, give it self Commendation by its Effects which hath ever answered the desire of the Patient. Dose, from Five, to Twenty or Thirty Grains, in the Spirit of Black-Cherries, or simple Black-Cherry, or Remy-Water; or any other fit Vehicle.

Price, 2s. 6d. Per Ounce.

Aqua

Aqua Lythonthripticon.

THIS is a Liquid Medicine very Efficaciously active, in breaking or dissolving, and bringing away the Stone or Gravel, both in Rains and Bladder, or any other part of the Body where such a Medicine may come, it very powerfully provokes Urine, opening all its passages by what means soever receiving opilation, it is also a very absterlative Medicine wonderfully cleansing and opening obstructions in all parts of the Body. Its Dose from Ten, to Twenty or Thirty Drops in White, or Rhenish-Wine, or any other Vehicle; as Parsly-Water, Distilled Radish-Water, or the Juce of Birch-Tree, &c. And this is at any time of the day, but not presently after Meals.

Price, 2 s. 6 d. Per Ounce.

Nepenthe Tutissima.

THIS is Anodinous relieving oppressed Nature by gentle and pleasing rest, and this in all such cases as may require a composure of the Disquieted Archens: In short, it is a Medicine so Beneficial to Nature, and useful to the Physitian, that he cannot well be without it; It is also Diaphoretick, and Diuretick, and so very apt to give relief where such qualities are useful: It is not at all Stupifactive, but renders the Patient on the contrary, more refreshed and lively, for it not onely quiets disturbed and spent Nature, but gives strength, and a Serene and cheerful condition; it is really such an one, as rightly used will give the Patient benifit, and the Physitian credit. Its Dose is from One, to Ten Grains, either in Pill, or Deluted in fit Vehicle.

Price, 5 s. Per Ounce.

Pilula Polychresta.

THIS is an excellent Stomachick Pill, it gently Evacuates the Stomach of Excrements, of Digestion, or any other aquired obstructing impurities, and thereby prepares the Stomach for a due discharge of its duty; a true digestion of its aliment received for the nourishment of the whole Body, it is as harmless as advantagious, it causes no griping or other indisposition, as many Purges do in the time of its operation, but gently and pleasantly performs its Office. Its Dose from Twelve Grains, to a Scruple or half a Drahm.

Price, 4s. Per Ounce.

Elixir Deopilativum.

THIS is a Medicine very aperitive and effectual, especially as to the obstructions of Natures due course, in Feminine Bodies, rarely, or never missing of doing what it is to them Administred for this in particular ( in which I have often known it experienced: ) it is yet of more general advantage in all Cachectical indispositions what ever, opening all obstructions in all parts of the Body that an active Medicine can reach to, and therefore profitable against most common Diseases. Its Dose from Ten, to Forty or Fifty drops in Beer, Ale, or Wine, or any convenient Vehicle.

Price, 2s. 6d. Per Ounce.

Elixir

Elixir Anticacheticum.

His is a Medicine for the Cure of Cachexie, and all ill habit of the Body, as Efficacious as safe, and seldom goes off (after a due use of it) without desired effects to the Patient's content: It is a Medicine that may be of general use to any Conscientious Physitian; it is gently Laxative, so as to keep the Body (being Naturally or accidentally costive) in a safely Soluble condition: It is so excellent a friend to Nature, that enough cannot almost be spoken in its praise; and very convenient for all sorts of People to have in readiness by them; for by it have many excellent Cures been performed; when all other Medicines taken have proved ineffectual, as several by it have been fully Cured of the Dropsie, Pox, and Scurvy, with several others, which it would bee too tedious here to give an account of. Its use in the Scurvy is as well for prevention, as Cure. Its Dose from Ten to Twenty drops, Morning and Evening, in Beer, Wine, Ale, or any other the like Vehicle.

Price, 3*s.* Per Ounce.

Postscript.

THe last Ten Medicines being some of them Compounds, and neither the the Materia Medica in them, nor their preparation being commonly known, may haply give occasion to some to Scruple the use of them, to such I shall very willingly so far give satisfaction, both as to the ingredients and preparation, as shall be sufficient to induce a good opinion and an encouragement to their use as directed.
